

Language disorders include problems with understanding and talking/ expressing yourself

LANGUAGE DISORDERS

THERAPY VIA TELEHEALTH

Speech pathologists use telehealth effectively to work with students who have language difficulties or disorders to improve skills through a range of assessments and tasks.

WHAT'S INVOLVED?

Occasionally some resources may be emailed to you for your upcoming session, activities are done via screen share, or you may be asked to have some household items with you.

www.speechconnect.com.au